A CALL TO MINISTRY

A call to ministry means God inviting someone to dedicate their life (fully or in a specific capacity) to serving Him and His people. It is not just about choosing a role; it is about being chosen, shaped, and sent. It is God inviting and appointing a person to serve His purpose, using their life, gifts, and obedience to impact others in specific offices. The following are some types of call to ministry.

TYPES OF CALL TO MINISTRY

1. CALL TO OFFICE

(Galatians 2:7–8; Romans 11:13)

Paul was called to serve God in the office of apostle to the Gentiles, though he preached to the Jews (circumcised) and did miracles, but he was mainly called to serve in the office of apostle to the Gentiles. The Spirit of God spoke: "Separate me, Paul and Barnabas" (Acts 13:2). He magnified his office, while Peter was called to serve in the office of apostle to the Jews (circumcised).

2. GIFTS TO THE CHURCH FOR EDIFICATION

(Ephesians 4:10–12)

He gave the gifts of Apostles, Prophets, Evangelists, Pastors and Teachers for edifying the church; they are called to reform, transform and build them up spiritually and morally, and to teach the Saints/Church how to live their lives according to the righteousness of God in order to make heaven.

3. CALL TO SERVE WITH GOD'S GIVEN GIFTS

(Romans 12:4–8)

There are different kinds of God's given gifts: spiritual, material or vocational. All these gifts are given to serve in the Church for advancing the kingdom on earth.

CONCLUSION

The call to serve is a privilege and responsibility. When believers serve faithfully, God's kingdom is advanced, strengthened and His name is glorified. The reward of service that is done faithfully and acceptably starts from now till eternity.
